Cut Down State Expenses.
There certainly is need of retrenchment in state expenses. Vermont has too many commissions, too many heads of department drawing gilt-edged salaries that cost the state much more than their services are worth to the people who have to pay the bills. Then there is a growing tendency to feature local enterprises and affairs as state necessities or state benefit and persuade the legislature to appropriate sums for aid. We believe the $10,000 appropriation biennially for the aid of the state fair and agricultural fairs, should be discontinued and the sum used for some state-wide benefit, such as state highways similar to the Mohawk trail.
Agricultural fairs and the so-called state fair should be able to survive from a business standpoint and not from state aid. These exhibitions used to stand for that, and they would today if they carried the same popular interest and enthusiasm as formerly.
It is not today, an exhibition where the general farming public stand any show and a large number of enthusiastic supporters are not found at the present time. Only exhibitors of expensive stock where incomes from these are not necessary to keep them up, stand any show of commendation or being prize winners. This eliminates the great majority of the farming interests in the state and makes it necessary to turn fairs into vaudeville to draw an attendance. We have seen more real interest and enthusiasm in the small agricultural society exhibits that are now things of the past, than can be found in the great and glimmering state fairs of today.
Yet the people, the quiet, patient farmers of Vermont must guarantee the success of these great agricultural-alacrobatic-vaudeville-events by contributing to increased state expenses, and the benefit, direct and indirect, is something that requires a "watchful waiting" to even anticipate.—Island Pond Herald.

BENNINGTON BRIEFS

News of the Town and Village Told Briefly for Busy Readers

Harold Bottom went to Springfield Thursday on business.

Millionery opening at McLeods Saturday, Sept. 30. Adv.

Mrs. William Ryan of West Main street is visiting in Huntington, Mass.

The Faddens have arrived in town from New York for a two days' engagement at the Harte Theatre.

A special meeting of Bennington Aerie, for the purpose of initiation, will be held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 1, at 3 o'clock. Members are urged to be present.

A. B. Quinlan, E. J. Cumming and August Keison motored to the Great Barrington Fair this morning in Mr.
Quinlan's car.

Just arrived a fine lot of ferrets for rabbit hunting, also 12 and 16 gauge shot gun shells. Black and smokeless powder. Prices reasonable. J.
W. Pierce Adv.

The Catholic Order of Foresters will serve clam chowder in their rooms on South street Saturday evening and the public is cordially invited to attend.
Admission 25 cents. 39c2

The following new books have been added to the Free Library: Maggie Pepper, by Klein; The Prisoner, by Brown; The Heart of Rachael, by Norris and The Rising Tide by Deland.

James S. Alexander and Roland Fal-medo, students at Williams, passed through here this morning on a hike.
They intended climbing Bald Mountain and considered tackling a section of the long trail.

Don't forget the meeting tonight to promote the erection of more tenement houses in Bennington. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock at the office of Secretary E. S. Harris of the board of trade. All persons interested are urged to be present.

The son of Myron F. Roberts of Rupert, State Senator in 1898, fell from an aeroplane in Oklahoma last week and was killed. The airship was over 200 feet above the earth and when help arrived, the body was so disfigured as to be unrecognizable. The young man was but twenty-three years old. His remains were brought to his home and the funeral was held Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Atwood and two children, who have been guests at the home of F. H. Packard since June, have returned to Brooklyn. Mrs. Atwood is a sister of Mrs. Packard and Richard F. Rawson. She and the children came up here early in June to spend two weeks. Almost immediately afterward the epidemic of infantile paralysis broke out in Brooklyn and they thought it unwise to return to their home. Mr. Atwood has been up over Sundays as far as possible.

NORTH ADAMS RES- IDENT HELPED

Frank J. Rockwood Suffered from Stomach Troubles and General Rundown
Condition

WIFE ALSO BENEFITED

He Declares Since Taking Tanlac the Master Medicine and is Now Glad To Recommend It.

Frank J. Rockwood of 15 Walnut Street, North Adams, Mass., when talking to Mr. MacDonald, the Tanlac Man at Hastings' Pharmacy, made and signed the following statement, Sept. 23rd, Mr. Rockwood said:
"I have suffered from stomach trouble and a general rundown condition. I had no ambition was drowsy and sleepy and could not digest my food properly.

"My wife was also troubled with gas in the stomach after eating.
"I saw Tanlac advertised. I now feel much better, the drowsy feeling has left me and I can enjoy my meals.
My wife also has been relieved of stomach trouble and the gas which accumulated in her stomach after eating. Tanlac has entirely relieved her of this trouble.

"We have taken four bottles of Tanlac and I am glad to recommend it as it has done both of us a lot of good." The above is only one of the many statements that are being continually received from grateful users of Tanlac, the splendid tonic and system builder.

Tanlac removes from the system all tissue waste, poisonous matter and gases, establishes regular movement of the bowels, eliminating all foreign material from the system and by incorporating and toning up the various organs we build up a more vigorous constitution, makes us more disease resisting and more quickly to overcome nervousness, indigestion, backache, dizziness, rheumatism, kidney trouble and constipation.

Thousands of half-sick, rundown, people are finding relief today from the use of Tanlac, the universal remedy.

Tanlac is now being introduced and explained daily in Bennington at William L. Gokay's Drug Store, and can also be obtained in all neighboring cities and towns at the Tanlac Stores.

Do It Now.
If with pleasure you are viewing any work a man is doing, If you like him or you love him, tell him now.
Don't withhold your approbation till the parson makes oration.
And he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow;
For no matter how you shout it he won't really care about it; He won't know how many teardrops you have shed;
If you think some praise is due him, now's the time to slip it to him.
For he cannot read his tombstone
when he's dead.
More than fame and more than money is the comment kind and sunny And the hearty, warm approval of a friend.
For it gives to life a savor and it makes you stronger, braver, And it gives you heart and spirit to the end;
If he earns your praise bestow it; if you like him, let him know it; Let the words of true encouragement be said;
Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover.
For he cannot read his tombstone
when he's dead.

Missouri Jury Was Soft
It is proverbial that a pretty woman is master of a jury. Her smiles have more eloquence than all the forensic pleadings of the lawyers, more persuasiveness than all the force of legal precedents, more unanswerable logic than all the time-tested maxims of the law.
A new case has come up in St.
Louis—new only in name, not in kind. Maude Williams was charged with stealing $294 from a stranger, who alleged that she enticed him into a resort and that when he left he missed the money. During her trial the woman was not greatly concerned.
Maybe she knew the weakness of man, through which he may forget his oath, his obligation to the public and his respect for himself. Anyway, she smiled and shyly winked at the jurors throughout the trial, and they promptly returned a verdict of acquittal. The evidence seems not to have been concerned at all.
"Gentlemen of the jury," said the assistant circuit attorney, in a speech of "thanks" after the verdict was returned, "I thank you for your verdict.
I thank you in the name of all that is lawless and shameless in crime and criminals. I thank you for the discriminating taste you have shown—for the higher order of citizenship which you have displayed—in being influenced in your verdict by a pretty woman's winks and a glimpse at a bit of openwork stocking. You are a credit to your class."
And it is a large class. The frequency with which jurymen are influenced by pretty faces of defendants is a disgrace to the courts of this whole country. There have been many notable instances of this worse than weakness.

"It is strange," declared the judge who presided in this case, "that a jury can not try a woman defendant as im-partially as it can a man. It is a pity that a sickening flirtation between jurors and the defendant in a criminal case has the power in this court to defeat the ends of justice." When men take their animal qualities into a jury box, leaving their intellectual and moral attributes outside, a trial becomes worse than a farce. But there seems to be no remedy. Men can not be made over.
Though possibly juries made up of both men and women in cases where women are involved might work a revolution.—Rutland News.

EXTREME WEAKNESS AND SUFFERING

Read How Mrs. Goodling got Relief and Strength.

York, Pa.—"I have used Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found it to be all you say it is. I was so sick that I could not stand at my sink to wash dishes and I could not sit without a pillow under me. I had the doctor every few days but since I have taken the Compound I don't have to send for him. I have had three children and could not raise any of them, but since I have taken the Compound I have a bright baby boy. I advise every suffering woman to try it and get relief. It has done wonders for me."—Mrs. CATHERINE GOODLING, 138 E. King Street, York, Pa.
When a medicine has been successful in bringing health to so many, no woman has a right to say without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." There must be more than a hundred thousand women in this country who, like Mrs. Goodling, have proven what wonders Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can do for weak and ailing women. Try it and see for yourself.
If there are any complications you don't understand, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.
